TOLKO INDUSTRIES LTD.

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Orange Shirt Society and Tolko Industries Ltd. (Tolko) are pleased to announce the Society's annual Orange Shirt Day art contest. The Orange Shirt Society holds a contest each year, open to all K to 12 students across Canada in which the winning entry becomes the official Orange Shirt Day design for that year. The winner will receive $200 and an in-person visit with Phyllis Webstad on Orange Shirt Day, if travel is deemed safe.

"Kukstemcw, thank you, Tolko for sponsoring our annual orange shirt art contest", said Phyllis Webstad, Orange Shirt Society Ambassador and Founder. "Because of our partnership with Tolko, I am excited that I can now meet the winner on Orange Shirt Day every year!"

Jerome Beauchamp, Orange Shirt Society President said, "Tolko's contribution to the t-shirt contest is outstanding and telling of their commitment to Indigenous communities, supporting education about residential school impacts, and the belief that 'Every Child Matters'."

"We are honoured to be able to continue our support to the Orange Shirt Society in sharing this message with youth, and all Canadians, as we make the journey together on Indigenous reconciliation," said Bob Fleet, VP Environment and Forestry, Tolko Industries.

The 2022 contest is now open, and entries must be received by 9 pm November 10, 2021. For contest rules and entry form, please visit www.angeshirtday.org. For more information, contact Orange Shirt Society at info@angeshirtday.org.
